Interview

Preparation:

- Review the application form
- Review the SELECT test results

STEP 1: Open the Interview

Hello, my name is _____ and I'm the _____ (your position). We're glad that you are interested in this position. The purpose of this interview is to learn more about you and your work experiences. I will be asking you some questions about your previous experience, how you approach certain things, etc. You will probably see me jotting down some notes -- that's to help me remember better what you said after the interview is over. There are no correct or incorrect answers, what we want is to learn more about you. At the end, I'll leave some time to answer any questions you might have. If you are ready, we can begin.

STEP 2: Review the Application and Investigate Potential Problem Areas

___ All blanks completed?

___ Application signed?

___ Several jobs in the last 2 years?

___ Vague reasons for leaving job(s)?

___ Employment gaps?

___ Extremely high or low earnings?

___ Earnings show progress?

___ Can complete all essential functions?

Example Questions:

I see that you were unemployed from _____ to _____. Please tell me about this period of unemployment.

I see that you left your previous employer for personal reasons. Would you explain further?

I noticed that you have changed jobs frequently in the recent past. Why?

STEP 3: Review SELECT Flags and Begin In-depth Questions

While asking the following interview questions, be sure to listen and probe in the following areas highlighted by SELECT:

- Low Energy Level
- Low Interpersonal Insight
- Low Attention to Detail
- Low Self Control
- Low Social Comfort

1. Tell me about your responsibilities in your previous (or current) job. Which did you like most and why? Also, which did you like the least and why? (Listen for relevant work experience, likes and dislikes that may or may not fit this job.)

2. How would you describe yourself as an employee? What are your strengths? Weaknesses? (Listen for strong interpersonal skills, work ethic and a willingness to build customer relationships.)

3. What type of people do you like best? And least? Why? (Listen for openness and a lack of prejudice.)

4. What type of supervisor do you like best? Why? (Listen for a willingness to be supervised.)

5. Tell me about a time when you were asked to do a task you knew nothing about or a time when you had to solve an extremely difficult problem. (Listen for self-reliance and personal responsibility for achieving results.)

6. In terms of administrative skills, what are your strengths? In what areas do you think you might need to improve? How would you go about improving in these areas? (Listen for job fit and a willingness to learn.)

7. In your current (or most recent) job, tell me how you manage your time? Give me an example of when your schedule was interrupted suddenly. What did you do? How did you see that everything was still accomplished? (Listen for flexibility and multi-tasking.)

8. Tell me about a time when you found it difficult to get along with someone with whom you worked. What led up to the problem? What happened? (Listen for an ability to work within a team and maintain positive work relationships.)

9. How do you think your current or former employer would rate you with regard to being at work on time?(Listen for work ethic and reliability.)

10. Have you ever worked or volunteered in a position where your primary responsibility was to assist or serve people? How did you like it? How successful were you? (Probe for willingness to serve the needs of others.)

11. Think of a company that you feel provides good customer service. What is it about this company that makes you think of them? (Listen for service knowledge, values.)

12. Tell me about a time when someone failed to provide good service to you. Give me examples of what the person did poorly. How could he/she have improved? (Listen for service knowledge, values.)

13. Sooner or later, we all have to work with a customer who is unreasonable. What types of behavior would you find most frustrating? How would you respond under such a circumstance? (Listen for openness, tact and ability to handle difficult people.)

If you are still concerned about the Performance Flag areas, here are some additional questions to ask:

Low Energy Level: Describe your preferred work pace. In what types of work situations would you like to be more energetic? (Listen for answers that suggest that the candidate can't handle the pace of the job, or can't self-start to get the job done.)

Low Interpersonal Insight: Describe a recent disagreement or a difference of opinion you have had with a co-worker. What was their perspective? What was yours? What were the underlying issues? (Listen for an ability and willingness to understand and anticipate another person's perspective.)

Low Attention to Detail: What sorts of administrative tasks do you enjoy? What types do you dislike? On what types of tasks do you tend to procrastinate? Why? (Listen for a concern or a lack of concern for accuracy and detail.)

Low Self Control: Tell me how you usually make decisions about things. Please give me several examples. Why did you make the decision you did? (Listen for self-discipline. Does he/she think through the consequences first, or does he/she do the first thing that comes to mind, and regret the consequences later?)

Low Social Comfort: In your previous jobs, were you required to work with the general public? Have you had any other experience in being social with strangers or casual acquaintances? What do you like and dislike about these situations? (Listen for an interest in and an ability to interact with people in casual encounters.)

STEP 4: Conclude the Interview

Those are all the questions that I have for you. I appreciate the time that you have given to me. Is there anything that you would like to ask me?

STEP 5: Make the Hiring Decision

- Resist the temptation to hire someone just because you need to fill the job. You are likely to pay for a hiring mistake both in money and time.
- Focus on how well the candidate fits the demands of the job, not how much you like the candidate's personality or how much you have in common with the candidate.
- The selection process is designed as an aid to the well-reasoned judgment of a hiring manager, not a replacement for this judgment. In the end, every hiring decision is a judgment call. Use the tools provided in this process to inform your decision, not make it for you.

Use the following checklist to guide your decision. Please indicate your recommendation and write your comments in the appropriate Recommendation box. In addition, write your initials in the Initials column.
